Join us in Denver!

In its 35th year, the OR Manager Conference brings together perioperative leaders for in-depth education, networking and exploring the latest technologies and trends. OR Manager Conference takes a next-level approach by building upon the content published in OR Manager, a well-respected monthly print and digital publication, to provide a live learning experience!

Leaders of hospital ORs, PACUs and ASCs attend the OR Manager Conference every year to get hands-on education and experience to take back to their organizations. It is the only conference designed specifically for perioperative managers and directors to hear about the latest trends positively affecting OR outcomes, understand the impact of new strategies through real-world evidence from the country's most innovative facilities, discover ways to implement your learnings and share with team members, and walk away with a refreshed perspective and new ideas.

Educational content is put together by the experienced program planning committee comprised of chief nursing officers and directors; directors of surgical and perioperative services; compliance officers; PACU managers and directors; and education specialists from dozens of the country's leading institutions.

The 79 faculty specialize in a wide array of areas, including: staffing and retention; sterile processing; infection control; surgical smoke mitigation; new technologies; OR business efficiencies; supply management; post operative patient care; maximizing the role of ASCs; and the latest information in regulatory and compliance issues. In addition to being reinvigorated to return to their facilities and have a valuable impact, attendees leave with actionable resources that can produce tangible change for their organizations.

HEALTH & TRAVEL PRECAUTIONS

The OR Manager team strongly recommends attendees are fully vaccinated against COVID-19. While vaccinations are encouraged for all attendees, we do not require proof of vaccination to attend the event. However, the on-site staff and service providers are required to provide proof of vaccination prior to the event. Enhanced safety measures at the event include thorough and constant cleaning and sanitizing of surfaces, meeting rooms and exhibit spaces. Hand sanitizers will be present throughout the entire conference area.

SAMPLE LETTER TO YOUR EMPLOYER

Hi [Manager Name],

I am requesting approval to attend the OR Manager Conference, taking place October 17-19 in Denver, CO. Now in its 35th year, OR Manager Conference is a 3-day conference, and the #1 conference for new and experienced perioperative leaders alike, representing hospitals, ambulatory surgery centers and post anesthesia care units.

The conference agenda features 79 speakers from the most innovative health organizations in the country, including Vanderbilt University Medical Center, HCA Healthcare, Massachusetts General Hospital, Intermountain Healthcare, Northwestern Medicine, Cleveland Clinic, American Nurses Association, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, and others. Educational sessions will address 7 core areas that are key to our performance.

Many nurse leaders attend the OR Manager Conference to learn about the latest trends, best practices, actionable insights, and tactical approaches to optimize care and improve outcomes of the OR at their facilities.

Here are just a few of the benefits of my attendance:

- Education: Sessions are aligned to key business areas, including leadership, business, clinical, trending topics, staffing, supply chain, and more. The topics I will learn about will help to improve my skills as a clinician and as a business and people manager. In addition, I'll have the opportunity to earn CE credits and AEU's to maintain my certification.
- Real-world application: The case studies presented will offer insight into the application of new tactics and allow me to see first-hand how we could implement them at our facility to positively affect day-to-day operations.
- Networking: OR Manager Conference is the only industry conference for leaders like me, and the connections I'll make will benefit our organization. Having a resource to ask questions as we implement new ideas will only aid performance and outcomes.
- Today's latest & greatest: In addition to the education and networking, the 140 vendors who will be in attendance will offer products and solutions that will positively impact our operations, technology, and people management. This will allow me to bring home ways for us to solve current problems and create greater efficiencies in patient care and managing the surgical suite.

My attendance at this conference is vital to my professional development and will provide not only me, but our organization with new solutions that we can implement upon my return. I will provide a recap of what I learned and develop a list of action items for our facility.

The cost is $1,099 for a limited time. The earlier I register, the more we will save on registration. If I am able to take a colleague with me from our organization, we can both save 10% on our registrations.

Thank you for your consideration.

Kind regards,
